

From the above we can see that the combined model is no more accurate than the RF model alone. So I used the RF model as my final model